

St Brigid's Parish Cabinteely

March 5th 2023 - 2nd Sunday of Lent

As a kid I remember looking at my sister and thinking, "No man is ever going to marry her. She is way too...my sister!" I couldn't see her as anything except my goofy, emotional, cooties-laden sister. Years later, on her wedding day, I remember seeing how her husband looked at her, he was totally in love with her, his watery eyes full of overwhelmed joy, drinking in her beauty and grace. He was the one who actually saw her. Blinded by familiarity, I had not been able to see her until now. She was glorious. I finally saw how beautiful my sister really was.

Jesus is transfigured before Peter, James, and John. His face shone like the sun and his clothes dazzle with heavenly light. If it's a miracle, it is so related to the apostles' perception of the glory of Jesus. The physical spectacle reveals how the Father perceives the Son, so to speak: "This is my beloved Son, with whom I am well-pleased; listen to him." The Son is always bathed in the Father's love. It's only just now that they finally perceive it. Who could possibly give his or her heart totally to Jesus? If we perceive him to be just another teacher, symbol, or moral example, we can't. But if the Holy Spirit gives us eyes to see that he is the Beloved Son of God, who makes our humanity not just pleasing to God but filled with glory ... then who can resist him? Perhaps only the lovers are the ones who properly see.....Father John Muir

You are warmly invited to a series of three Lenten talks being hosted by the Loyola Institute. We will be looking at the question of 'true and false reform in the Church', inspired by the book of this name published by Yves Congar OP in 1950. This will help us to see how Congar can help us in our synodal journey today.

Tues March 14th: "Is Reform Possible? Conditions for Authentic Reform", Dr. Fáinche Ryan

Tues March 28th: "True and False Reform Today", Dr Gemma Simmonds.

All lectures begin at 7.30, at the Loyola Institute, Trinity College Dublin. They are free and all are welcome

Lenten poems for individual and group meditation

A beautiful Lenten resource for individual/group meditation is Ecce Homo: Poems for Lent and Holy Week, from the Anglican Archdiocese of Algoma, Canada. The daily Lenten poems include poems of lamentation & pain – reminders of Jesus's suffering – as well as of contemplation, praise and thanksgiving

The poems are rich and varied. Each poem is accompanied by a short reflection, making it an excellent resource for both groups and individuals. Access this - and many other rich and unusual Lenten resources - at: www.newpilgrimpath.ie.

On Wed. March 8th Rob Goodbody will present 'The Building of Howth Harbour' at 6pm in the Conference Room, Dublin City Library & Archive, 144 Pearse Street, D2. All are welcome - admission is free and no booking is required.
