

Prophetic Voice of Women in the Bible for the church today

A prophet is someone who speaks the truth of the Gospel from a marginalised position in society, thus challenging the dominant narrative of the status quo. Journeying through the Jewish and Christian scriptures over six evenings, we will recover/discover the presence, voice, and roles of women contained within. We will explore the significance of their faith presence not only for their time, but also the potential significance these biblical women can have for our lives and for the life of our church today.
