

St Brigid's Parish Cabinteely

Jan 18th 2026— Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

On the shores of the Jordan, John the Baptist was preaching a baptism of penance to people from every background, to prepare for the Messiah's coming. The Gospel according to Saint John relates that when the Baptist finally saw Jesus come before him to be baptised, he announced it in a loud voice, applying to him a mysterious and solemn title that the Roman Liturgy continues pronouncing at Mass before Communion: "Behold, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world!"

The image of the lamb, with its characteristic meekness and coat of white wool, would be very familiar for any Jewish contemporary of Jesus. Many of them would have been raised in country areas where sheep and cattle were a common sight. They would also recall the passage from the prophet Isaiah, who presented the Suffering Servant of the Lord as a lamb that lets itself be sacrificed without complaint in order to free us from evil (Is 53:7).

In announcing the Messiah as the Lamb of God, the Baptist revealed essential aspects of his redemptive mission. Benedict XVI said that the expression "lamb of God" points to the theology of the cross present in Jesus' baptism, to his descent into the depths of death. The paschal lamb that commemorated the Jewish people's liberation from Egypt begins to be revealed at the Jordan as the foreshadowing of the true Lamb, innocent and meek, who will be immolated at midday on the Cross for all men, to free them from sin with his blood poured out for them. Referring to the Baptist's words "the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world," Pope Francis remarked: "the verb that is translated as 'take away' literally means 'to lift up,' 'to take upon oneself.' Jesus came into the world with a precise mission: to liberate it from the slavery of sin by taking on himself the sins of mankind. How? By loving. There is no other way to conquer evil and sin than by the love that leads to giving up one's life for other. "What does it mean for the Church, for us today, to be disciples of Jesus, the Lamb of God? It means replacing malice with innocence, power with love, pride with humility, status with service.

Thank You For your Generosity

Sincere thanks to all who contribute so generously and regularly to our parish collections. The two collections during Mass go to the central administration of the diocese. The First Collection [plus dues] is used to pay the priest's salaries, both working & retired. The second collection (Share) pays for the services provided by the diocese and is used to support parishes that are struggling financially. If you want to support the parish at local level, you can use the weekly envelopes or pay by standing order (details in parish office). If you would like to make a donation by credit/debit card, simply scan the QR code using the camera on your phone and it will take you to our secure online donations page, where you can enter your card details
